DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Claims 1-18 in Paper No. 8 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the bodies of the claims recite similar subject matter. This is not found persuasive because the preamble establishes where the search will occur. It would be a serious burden for the Examiner to search every conceivable area for selecting specific pages of data to be printed, a computer memory with similar instructions and all such machines that carry out the method.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1-10,12-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Whitmarsh US 202/0101608 A1, hereafter "608."

How Claims 1-18 are being interpreted:

It is noted that the first, second and third paper sources/characteristics/types are not necessarily different. Likewise, the first ,second and third paper ranges are not necessarily different. Additionally, any further recitations of a first, second and third have been interpreted as a repeated process. The Examiner has interpreted Claim 1-18 as a repeated process of the same tray/characteristics/inks and pages. The Examiner has interpreted Claims 1-18 using the broadest reasonable interpretation. See, e.g., In re Yamamoto, 222 USPQ 934,936-937 (Fed. Cir. 1984).

With respect to Claims 1-5,12-13,14-15, '608 teaches the selection of a paper sources/characteristics in figure 9 and the selection of a page ranges in page 7 at element 72 and the printer 18b on the front page diagram, the printing of the paper in at least one ink color by either printer 18b or 18c. With respect to Claim 6, '608 teaches the simplex and duplex modes in figure 9 at element 80e. With respect to Claims 7-10,16-18, '608 teaches the user interface in figure 9 and the receiving and transmitting steps on the front page diagram and the selection of media types in figure 9 and section [0041-0042].

Allowable Subject Matter

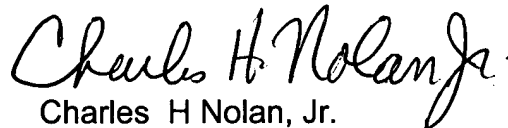

4. Claim 11 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
